contributed to our Youth Scholarship Fund. This year we were able to award these wonderful students who strive to promote our Scottish heritage and Celtic culture, the funds to help them on their road to success.

Without your generous and continuous support, we would not be able to provide these students the scholarships they so richly deserve.

On behalf of Clan Henderson Society, I also want to thank the members of the Scholarship Committee who have worked diligently in this important task: Mary Henderson, Mary Lane Henderson and the VP Members, Mark Henderson.

Dear Clan Henderson Society,
I am so grateful for the scholarship that you gave me. I am eleven years old and turning twelve this year.

I have been playing the pipes for two years now and plan to keep playing the pipes forever.

The scholarship you gave me will be going towards The Rob McLintock California Summer School for piping and drumming in Carlsbad California next summer. This means a lot to me and I can't wait until I go to camp next year. I will learn so much about how to be a better piper and a better band mate.

Sincerely,
Aiden Henderson

Clan Henderson Society President

It has been a very active quarter for Clan Henderson Society.

In addition to the numerous activities associated with convening events around the world, the CHS Leadership Team has also been very active programmatically.

As you have probably seen elsewhere in this edition of An Canach, the Scholarship Committee has been very active assessing applications and making awards.

The committee, consisting of Mary Henderson of Fredericksburg VA, the South East Commissioner Mary Lane Henderson, and Ann Hicks the Youth Director, are to be congratulated for an excellent job.

Next, I want to thank Mark Henderson (VP Members) for his "hike-a-thon" on behalf of the youth scholarship program. His effort is not only appreciated for the funds he generated, but the creativity in the manner which he did so. Hopefully other members of our society will follow his example in helping to support our activities.

The Corporate Outreach Committee of our society has put the final touches on their program to solicit corporate funds to support our scholarship activities.

Louis Russell has provided excellent leadership. He and the entire team are to be congratulated.

I encourage all members of CHS to help identify companies that may be willing to contribute.

Louis and his team will be very pleased to work with you to that end and provide whatever resources and advice you may require.

The basic concept for identifying contributors is the one that was offered up by Reg Hill which stipulates that smaller companies should be the focus of our efforts. The team has developed both hardcopy brochures and digital video presentations to help. Please contact Louis for more details.

Speaking of video presentations, CHS has also developed a video presentation to assist members of the Leadership Team (LT) to communicate with members via email more effectively.

This on-line training course enables the LT to review of the membership Excel-spreadsheet, sort the listing of members by region, state, or any of a number of other categories, and copy and paste email addresses into an email.

The video consists of a number of "screen-captures" plus an audio description. Please contact either myself or Louis Russell to receive this training.

Lastly, it is not too late to reserve your room at the Ligonier Ramada Inn for this year's AGM September 13 (the Executive Session) and September 14 (the AGM) which will be held at the game site. Please contact the hotel directly for reservations at 724-238-9545 vs using other on-line booking services.

Mike and Joan Henderson of Annapolis have dedicated considerable time and effort in planning this event and it is very much appreciated.

How many feet on the ground mean what?

How many times have you seen an equestrian statue with a historical figure? Did you know that the horse's position will tell you much about the rider?

If you see a statue where the horse is either rearing or cantering - with two feet on the ground - you'll immediately know that the rider was killed in battle.

If you see a statue where the horse has three feet on the ground, this signifies that the rider survived the battle, but later died of his wounds.

If the horse has all four hooves flat on the ground, this means the rider was declared a national hero - and proved his mettle.

If the soldier is standing on the ground, the horse was killed in battle.

Using these rules, the gentleman aboard the horse to the right (in Edinburgh) survived the battle, but died later of his wounds.

Does anyone know who this is? Write me (bethscribble@aol.com) if you know.

Welcome to the Wonderful World of Black Sheep

Bryan Mulcahy, Reference Librarian Fort Myers, (FL)

Historically, regardless of the country of residence, the size of your average family was much larger than in modern times.

Genealogists often encounter at least one black sheep ancestor in every family unit researched.

My father and I are both members of what I now joyfully call this “elite group” due to his marriage outside the family approved religion and ethnic group.

I am a proud member based on my birth as the product of this dastardly event.

Your ancestors may have gained membership in our elite squadron due to one or more of the following common situations:

1. Criminal activity;
2. Refusal to follow a family mandated directive (such as an arranged marriage for example);
3. Unplanned or unwanted pregnancy;
4. Extramarital affair;
5. Mental or medical disability that embarrassed the family;
6. Marriage outside the approved ethnic or religious group;
7. Employed in what was perceived as an unacceptable occupation;

8. Failure to achieve a family designated educational, social, religious or occupational goal.

The usual strategy used by many families is to initially pretend that the person doesn't exist. Next, they tend to vilify the ancestor.

In some cases, their actions were justified based on the social mores of the time. However, in more than a few cases, I've heard accounts where the family was guilty of wrong doing and tried to cover it up.

The ancestor who refused to go along with the lie ended up having the blame transferred to them. If they were conveniently deceased, the person was not around to defend themselves. Hence, it is wise to remember that there are two sides to every story and truth is often stranger than fiction. Both of these cliches are especially important for anyone involved in genealogical research.

Strong spirit and resilience overcomes adversity. The CHS Bodyguard can lead the way!

David R. Henderson, P.E., FSA Scot - Deputy Head of Bodyguard

Clan Henderson Bodyguard is comprised of members that volunteered not for pomp and ceremony but to answer the call no matter what the challenge or when it should arise.

At Grandfather Mountain Highland Games (GMHG), 12-14 July, such a demonstration of leadership and perseverance prevailed.

Henderson's made a proud showing on the Field.

The 64th GMHG marked an anniversary of the organizational meeting in 1986 and founding of Clan Henderson Society on that very Field in 1988.

The event found our loyal patrons homeless without a clan tent for the first time in 31 years.

Under these circumstances most Clans would have merely dissipated into the horde of 20,000 visitors. Being Henderson strong, a dedicated cadre of annual attendees set in motion an impromptu plan to save the day and conquer adversity.

The family of Founding Chaplain, Doug Henderson, which have affectionately been referenced as the "Newport (NC) Henderson's" have for decades staked out an area on the shaded and cool mountainside overlooking the entire field.

This annual claim of turf became our CHS gathering place. The "Newport Henderson's" led by Doug's sons, Bill (member #35) and Kyle (member #4), and families - demonstrated the hospitality for which Henderson's are well known.

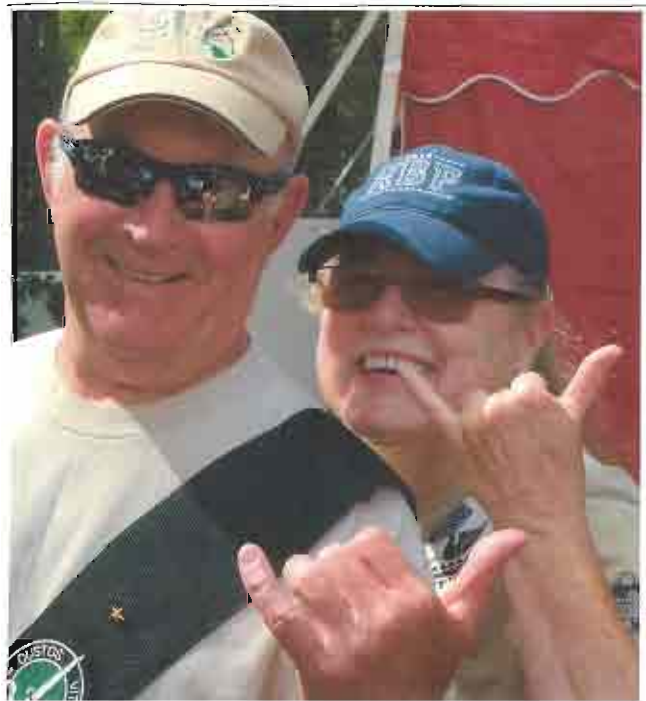

Since cousins roaming in the masses seeking the Henderson Tent would not anticipate looking on the mountainside, Kari and Brother Dave established a Rally Point in a borrowed corner of a tent near the main entrance to the field.

Kari and Dave, members of the Scottish Cultural Organization of the Triangle (S.C.O.T.) which is a group of like-minded folks in the Research Triangle of central NC who share similar goals as those set forth by our Chief.

From this Rally Point wandering Henderson's were directed to the mountainside.

Numerous cousins were gathered. The distinction of most distant travelers belonged to Larry and Jackie Phillips of Wahiwa, Hawaii.

Larry & Jackie were very active members in California prior to relocating to the islands. They are active in the cross-cultural relations between local native Hawaiian's and Scottish descendants.

Larry is a long-lost member of the Bodyguard and Jackie has studied hula dance.

Each dance tells a story and she has a Henderson Hula which hopefully will be a future

McKendree- Stebbins Henderson wedding

Charles McKendree

The wedding was for my daughter, Robyn McKendree and her new husband, Jordan Stebbins.

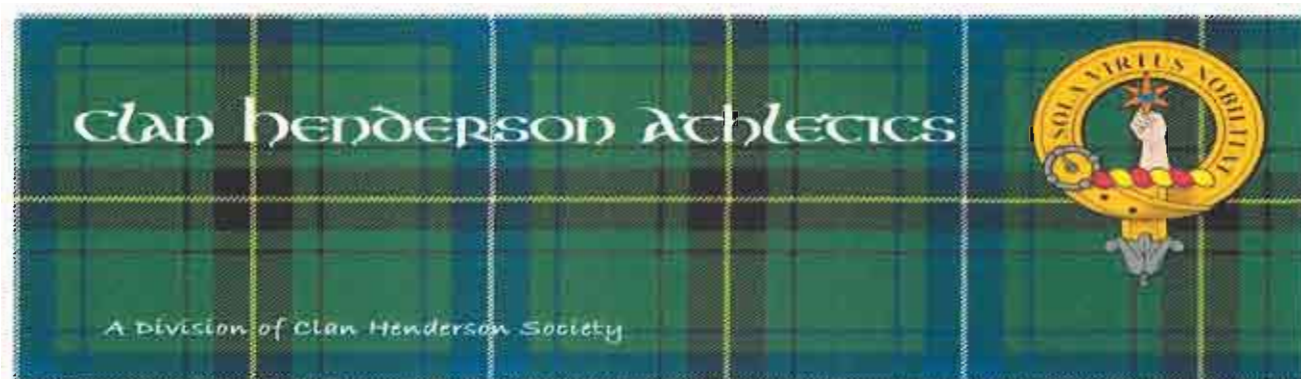

My daughter was engaged last year on July 4, 2018. They had been sweethearts for about 5 years, and decided to make it official for the engagement. We went for a while trying to decide when to have the wedding because they are both in college, but decided to go ahead with the wedding on July 7, 2019, one week after her 21st birthday.

When we discussed themes, my daughter wanted a unique and memorable wedding, so we discussed how to do that tastefully and elegantly, and she decided that she wanted a Scottish themed wedding.

We had just recently discovered that the

There have been at least 9 athletes competing in at least 17 competitions.

The Hendersons were also represented at a Florida elementary school during their "International Day." Myself and athletes from 3 other Clans did Highland Games demonstrations and spoke about Scottish Heritage to about 125 young 2nd and 3rd kids. This is going to be an annual event that I plan on attending again next year.

I know each of them will do well and make us all proud. Many of the people above will have competitions in the second half of the year as well. We currently anticipate having three athletes competing at the Ligonier, PA games during the

Louis Russell, Director Clan Henderson Society Corporate Outreach

The Clan Henderson Corporate Sponsor Committee was established this past year to expand funds available for CHS Scholarships. The Committee would like to take this opportunity to highlight its progress and to describe how everyone can help with this effort.

A brochure describing the program was developed and distributed to all Regional Commissioners. In addition, a video describing how to use the brochure was created and is available on the CHS web page. Finally, a post card was created that can be handed out to potential sponsors if they need additional information on the CHS Scholarship Program. Contact Steve Henderson or Louis Russell if you need any of these materials.

In addition, the Committee spent significant time discussing the type of company that would be interested in becoming a corporate sponsor. We recognize that CHS will be competing with many worthy causes seeking support. Therefore, we developed a profile of a company that we thought would likely be interested in supporting the CHS Scholarship Program. Key characteristics include:

- A local company with a program/policy for supporting the community.
- There should be a personal relationship with a CHS member and the owner, manager or an employee of the company.

- Clan Henderson Society members may be an owner/manager/employee of the company.

- A retailer with Scottish related items that would consider donating a percentage of CHS member purchases.

- The company will be committed to philanthropy and community support.

Three recent corporate sponsors are examples of companies that have committed their support of the CHS Scholarship program. We hope that by describing these sponsors, you will recognize similar companies in your community and will help the Committee contact the company.

Weissenburger Investments and Financial Planning* (www.weissenburgerinvestments.com). This is a private firm providing financial services to clients. One of the committee members is a client and has a long relationship with the owner of the firm. The firm is committed to support of the community and philanthropy. They were eager to support a smaller not-for-profit like the Clan Henderson Society Scholarship program because they knew overhead charges were minimal and that all their money would go to the intended purpose.

Lawler Design Group (www.lawlerdesigngroup.com). This is a small private architectural firm. The owner of the firm is a member of Clan Henderson Society. Being a recent graduate herself, the owner remembers the challenge of paying for college. She was eager to support Clan Henderson Scholarship Program and to help current students as they continue their education.

Order of the Gael (www.orderofthegael.org).

This is an example of an on-line marketing company focusing on specialty products for people that need luggage designed for people traveling with their kilt. The firm was contacted by a Committee member and they agreed to contribute a percentage of sales to the Clan Henderson Scholarship Program if members would identify themselves as they purchase products.

Other Committee members are being creative in their efforts to expand the CHS Scholarship Program. For example, Mark Henderson, VP CHS Membership, has turned his passion for hiking into a fund-raising effort. Mark is committed to hike a minimum of 500 miles on the Appalachian Trail in the Eastern United States and on the Camino de Santiago in Spain. He is looking for sponsors and plans to donate the funds to the CHS Scholarship program. Everyone is encouraged to join the effort and to consider becoming a sponsor. We all look forward to great pictures and numerous stories of Mark's adventures.

The Corporate Outreach Committee is getting started. With everyone's support we will be successful expanding our Society's Scholarship Program helping the next generation to reach their potential.

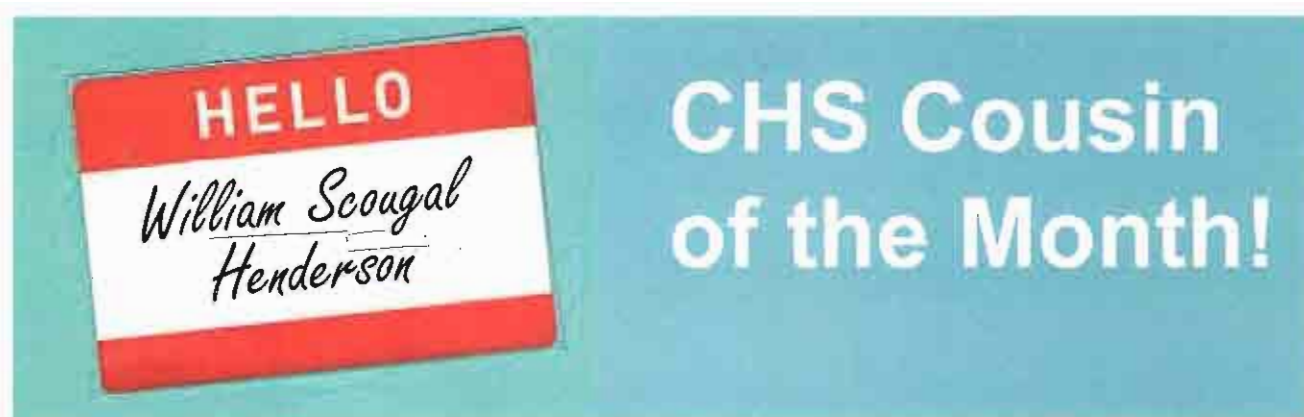

Clan Henderson Society members are encouraged to support our Corporate Sponsors.

If you know a company that you think would want to support our Society's Scholarship Program, please contact: Louis Russell, Director Clan Henderson Society Corporate Outreach. Contact: hendersoncorporateoutreach@gmail.com

Would you like to go to Scotland with Hendersons?

Charm and Louis Russell and LaRhee Henderson are toying with the idea of a small group trip to Scotland in 2021. We think it would be such fun to share times with our extended Henderson 'cousins' in the lands of our ancestors. Each plan we have in mind now has port excursions available, and/or we could organize something ourselves that is of interest to our Hendersons group.

If you have ideas or would like to join in the discussion, contact: <Russell.charm@gmail.com> or <Larhee.henderson@drake.edu>

William Scougal Henderson of Missouri. Who Am I?

I am William Scougal Henderson, born in Edinburgh, Scotland. I was educated in Scotland and England and retired from 47 years in Business Computing with 35 years service in Mobil / ExxonMobil.

I am now living in my 11th home on Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri, after owning homes in five separate countries and traveling to tens of countries for business.

I joined Clan Henderson Society, USA in the early 90s while living in the Fairfax, Virginia, area. I was very involved, along with my wife, in various Scottish events up and down the Eastern States, notably around Old Alexandria. I served as Vice President to the late Rex Maddox from 1999 thru 2002.

Now, I am a dual nationality passport holder, becoming a Scottish -American citizen on August 1, 2001.

When I recently submitted my DNA to FamilyTree I discovered a strong connection to Clan Gunn.

My father never talked much about the family and I have no appreciation as to inter family connections so I will be interested if any USA based Hendersons or otherwise have a close connection in DNA terms.

As is common in Scotland, my middle name is a family connection rather than a secondary 'Christian' name.

Visits to three Scottish family castles and Edinburgh Castle have indicated that two generations of Scougals were portrait painters from the early 1600s. Time may help me to determine more.

I hope to attend at least four Scottish Highland games in Missouri this year which will have a Clan Henderson presence, including two which I will be convening for the first time. Wish me luck!

"McEndree" name was part of the Henderson clan, so I encouraged her to use the Henderson Tartan, so we looked that up and compared the Henderson Modern tartan versus the Henderson Ancient tartan, and decided to use the Ancient.

We worked with AtlantaKilts.com and Kathy and her crew were so helpful in finding what we needed, and helped set up the fabric weave and construct the kilts.

We found a picture online of a wedding dress with a tartan pattern down the back, so we used it as a model. We purchased a wedding dress (first dress she tried on), and then employed a seamstress to split the back and add the tartan panel to the train.

We put the men in kilts, and added the fly plaid for the groom. The groomsmen, the groom, the ushers, the ring bearer, the father-of-the bride and grandfather-of-the-bride were all in kilts.

The color chosen for the bridesmaids was a sapphire blue taken from the accent color on the Henderson Ancient kilt, and we added a sash and jeweled brooch for each bridesmaid.

We researched other members of our family. My wife, Terri's, maiden name is "Madden" and decided to give her a sash from the Galway county Ireland. Her father wore a vest with the Galway pattern.

My Step-Mother, Nancy Carroll

McKendree, and her sister, Patricia Carroll, are from the "Carroll" family of county Tipperary Ireland, and they wore that pattern.

My decorating coordinator's family is from the Ireland county Antrim, and she wore that sash.

We researched the Henderson story, and put it in the program with information from the Clan Henderson website, and we explained the significance of Handfasting and the Quaich Cup Ceremony, and incorporated both into the wedding.

At the reception, we decorated the tables in the hunter green and added simple tartan patterns to each table in different colors.

It was a wonderful wedding, and I loved doing it. I am an organizer and planner by trade, and loved doing the wedding, so I have now started my own wedding planning business called "Charles in Charge Events" in the north Tampa Bay area.

Clan Henderson Society Genealogy News

August 2019

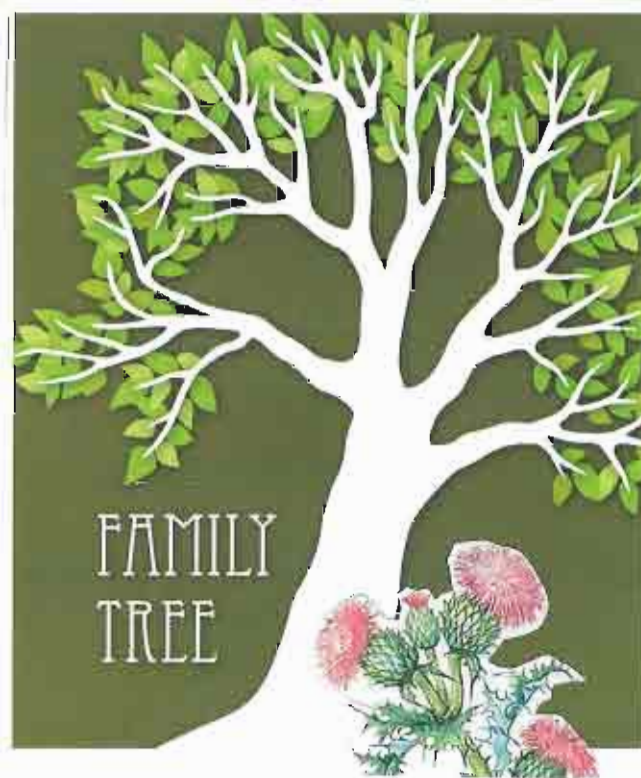

LaRhee Henderson,
CHS Genealogy/DNA

CHS genealogy has had a busy June with 10 new research requests, 6 new members in the Henderson surname project, and 214 posts from our 174 members in the CHS genealogy facebook group.

Alert: While researching a tree that led to James Henderson, b. Virginia, d 1825 Wilkes County, North Carolina, and married to Mary Booker, I found their portraits at (<https://mesda.org/item/collections/james-henderson/19038/>). This is a widely cited couple in Ancestry and Geni trees. But, further reading showed that this James Henderson died without children! If your tree includes this James, you have an error!

Fun Find: I found old newspaper clippings from Ida Grove, Iowa, from late 1800s where my great grandparents homesteaded. This small town was once a central hub for Scottish immigrants in NW Iowa with hundreds in attendance for their annual events (1902 had 1400 attendees!). In an 1887 gathering, Robert Todd gave a speech that is still rousing today. Here is an excerpt from his speech:

“Some of the young Scots might ask ‘what is the object of this annual gathering?’ Someone has said ‘there is a time for everything—a time to dance, a time to be merry,’ and I would add, there is also a time to honor our native land; a time to extend the right hand of fellowship and talk of our childhood days, when we used to roam over the hills and through the vales of bonnie auld Scotland, the beacon light of nations, not in its area of square miles, but in its sacred soil and illustrious men and women.

The first land under the suit which stood for religious liberty. The country which furnished the first martyrs to religious freedom, the Stewarts, the Mills who died at the burning stake so that not only Scotland, but the whole world might worship God according to the dictates of their conscience.

Scotland, the land of Bruce and Wallace—the land that was never conquered. The mighty Caesar and all his hosts could not prevail against it. Scots and their Claymore stood as a wall against him and hurled back the powers of tyranny.

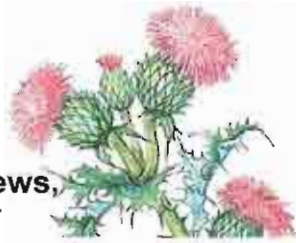

Scotland, the land of statesmen....law....explorers....writers....orators....poets.....

Scotland, the cradle of liberty, the birthplace of martyrs, heroes, statesmen and poets.

To you, her worthy sons and daughters, your offsprings and your friends, I give you thrice a hearty welcome.”

Brynn Brown at Grandfather Mountain, July 2019 with some of her awards! The Clan Henderson Society is proud of you, Brynn!

Steve Henderson, VP-Ops and Convener for CHS, 571-482-7332

Never one to remain complacent, I ventured out on Thursday, 20 June 2019 and departed from Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, and went north and west from Pennsylvania into Ohio.

I stayed that night near Toledo, Ohio, and then went on toward Detroit, Michigan. After waiting in multiple lines at the Ambassador Bridge on morning of 21 June I finally entered Windsor, Ontario, Canada.

To go to the games, I wended my way east on Canadian secondary roads and ended up in Kingsville, Ontario, in early afternoon.

I met with the Clan Coordinator for the Kingsville Highland Games and Celtic Festival, Don Noels, and set up my tent and covered all for the night.

I found a motel (about 40 km to the east in Leamington) and booked for two nights. Had a quiet night and got back to Kingsville the early morning of Saturday, 22 June. I got tables and items squared away under the tent and met conveners of six other clans (Gunn, Wallace, Mac Quarrie, Donald, Mac Lennon and Mac Lean) - along with Henderson, the only clans at this gathering.

I sat in my director's chair and patrolled the clan area throughout the day as people started arriving and remaining at the festival.

According to Mr. Noels, about 6,000 adults and 2,000 youth attended this festival. They mostly observed the Highland Games and heard the skirling bagpipes in competition and applauded the young Highland Dancers at those venues.

About 200 people wandered into the Clan area and I talked to most of them. I was unable to recruit any new members, but provided genealogy and DNA information to five people with Henderson in their background. (These names are provided to VP-Members for additional communication.).

Also, I talked to a lot of people who had no idea about their heritage or what their clan (if they have one) tartan looks like: Steed, Anderson, Mc Sorley, Clegg, Wadsworth, Crawford, Mallory, Scott, Uquahardt, O'Brien, MacAlpin, Leslie, and Coulter were some with whom I visited.

I do enjoy finding information in various books about the families of interested people!

As the festival drew to a close in the late afternoon, I packed up tent and contents and loaded all into my Ford Escape and went back to the motel to spend the evening.

I followed that major highway south until was able to get on some secondary roads and was home by mid-afternoon.

Even though no Canadian Henderson families joined CHS at the Kingsville, Ontario, Highland Games, the trip was without incident and I found the venue and people enjoyable.

Maybe CHS should venture into Canada from time to time to make a presence in future years?

Savannah: A Great Event

Leon Hicks: President Clan Henderson Society

Each time I write about the Savannah Highland Games and Festival the words change very little, if you have never been you should plan to attend. There is not a more beautiful venue anywhere. If Southern charm is something you are looking for, this is the place. Just as significant as the beauty of the place is the great hospitality and friendliness of the people we meet there – especially the Clan Henderson Society folks. Thank you for being such gracious hosts.

Speaking of generosity, this is the second time I have had the pleasure of receiving a very generous donation from the Lee family to support our Claude A. Henderson Scholarship Fund. Words cannot begin to express the appreciation I felt for their generosity. It was great having them to share our tent and stories of their long-standing membership. Being a veteran of Vietnam, Mr. Lee and I shared many experiences. His service to our country is greatly appreciated and deserving of every honor.

We were also extremely fortunate to have three new members join our Society. I very much enjoyed our conversation with all. They will be a tremendous asset to Clan Henderson for the future as each provides unique interest and experiences. The new members are Jared and Stacey Trawick, Bianca and Steven Hollander, and Kenneth and Denise Ray. We thank you for your membership and hope you will enjoy and take advantage of the many opportunities membership offers.

Lastly, the reason for the successful effort is due principally to the great support provided by the new South East Regional Commissioner, Mary Lane Henderson and her sister and most able assistant, Jan Burdette. Of course the person who deserves the most credit for the success of the event goes to Ann Henderson Hicks, Youth Director and wife of the President. We were also pleased to have the Director of CHS Athletics join us, Bryan Simpson and his wife Staci. We very much appreciate their effort to promote Highland Athletics and Clan Henderson Society.

Friendsville, Maryland and Garrett County Celtic Festival nets new CHS members!

Steve Henderson, VP-Ops and Convener for CHS, 571-482-7332

For the third time in the last four years, I drove out to Friendsville, Maryland, in western Maryland's mountain country of Garrett County and attended the Garrett County Celtic Festival on the first of June 2019.

I was set up in the same spot as the previous times and had wonderful weather throughout the day. With the tent and tables and chairs arranged according to previous efforts at the 85 other festivals I have attended in the past five years, I settled into my director's chair and put on my CHS "greet everyone who comes by the tent and make every attempt to recruit some new members" tam o'shanter!!

The morning faded into noon and despite a lot of commentary between me and the people who came past our tent, there were no new members among that group.

After much interplay between the Wallace clan members on one side and the Bell clan members on the other, we opined that it might "just be one of those days when few would want to be recruited"!! But, lo and behold, a young couple and their toddler (wearing a child's kilt of indeterminate weave), approached the Henderson fortress and the young woman, Jordann Wilson, said her mother was a Henderson and, when I asked her to join CHS, she signed our guest book and filled out an application and paid cash to join. We talked for about ten minutes (with Jordann's husband and toddler listening in) and we agreed that she would receive the membership packet soon from Mark. In return, I invited her to send a request to David Henderson to get a DNA package and to send information about her Henderson roots to LaRhee Henderson to add to the Henderson ancestry project. The Wilson family made their departure with the most recent issue of An Canach plus the child's coloring book that I had ready for dispersal at my table.

The remainder of the day (in all its great weather glory) passed. We listened and saw some excellent Highland Dancing at the dance venue

NORTHEAST REPORT - Barbara Cass

Pamboukes, NE Region Commissioner

On May 18, 2019 I had the great pleasure of attending my first Celtic Games and Festival in NY Finger Lakes, Farmington, New York, as NE Regional Commissioner. I made the 7 hour trip from my home in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, to meet Steve Henderson who drove from his home in Waynesboro, PA. I was thrilled to be back to my Finger Lakes roots. My hometown is Geneva New York.

Together, we hosted the Clan Henderson hospitality tent. Steve spent over 6 hours sharing his knowledge of Clan Henderson, Highland games, Roles of Convenors and Commissioners while greeting and socializing with prospective Clan Henderson members. I learned so much and was intrigued by Steve's comfort and ease with people. Our tent was positioned next door to the Black Button distillery tent and in very close proximity to the games.

Steve and I signed three new Clan Henderson members during this event. Lynn Henderson, Donald Henderson Cass and Laurence Champoux. Lynn was an artisan at the festival, Larry is my cousin and Donald is one of my brothers!!!

It was a pleasure to meet so many engaging people. Jim Smith and his wife visited our tent many times. Jim was a first year athlete at these games. They also hosted many athletes under the joint Clan Henderson and Clan Claus tent on the athletic field. Jim will be a convenor at NY events.

We were pleased to meet and learn from them.

As the new NorthEast Region Commissioner I have been reviewing my roles, responsibilities and my duties to the NorthEast Region and Clan Henderson. As you may have read, I jumped into this position in April 2019. I look forward to working with all of you, but I do need to learn from you and hear what you have to say.

My interest is knowing what about Clan Henderson

Society is important to you and your kin. Is it the Highland games and festivals, family history, world class genealogy and DNA program, Henderson history and culture, scholarships for our youth or becoming a convenor for a local event in your state. Please send me an email or call and let me know what appeals to your interest.

When I was invited to the Finger Lakes Festival by Steve, I had no idea how much I would enjoy the event. Before leaving for the day, I registered for the Finger Lakes Celtic Games for May 16, 2020.

As you may have read, our previous Regional Commissioner, has stepped away from the position. His service to Clan Henderson will always be appreciated. Gary Henderson was not only an active RC, but a very active NY Convenor. We are across the way from our tent and heard information about the demonstration of Highland Games at the large field near the food vendors area.

We took all this in and, as the crowds dispersed after 4:30 or so, I began to dismantle the Henderson space. I departed Friendsville, MD about 5:15 and was home by 8:30 in Waynesboro, PA. Another great day of representing CHS at a well-established small festival was completed.

one of the tallest men of his day - if you're 6' 4" you could wear this!

This is one of the few existing tartan garments-that predates the proscription of Highland Dress in 1747. It is suggested that he may have worn this at the celebration at Holyrood House after the Battle of Prestonpans (1745). Fashion as political statement!

hopeful that he will continue as a Convener in festivals in western New York State. Jim Smith will be convening in several NY events as well as being an athlete.

We are actively seeking Clan members who will assist in convening events in the North East. Please contact me if you have an interest.

Currently, the NorthEast Region has 49 active members.

27-NY; 3-NH; 1-
VT; 1-CT; 2-RI; 10-MA;
4-ME

Currently, the NorthEast Region has the following number of Festivals by state:

15-NY; 1-NH; 1-VT; 2-CT; 1-RI; 1-MA; 3-MA

For the complete schedule of Festivals, please go to the Clan Henderson website. It also appears in the An Canach newsletter that is sent electronically quarterly.

Currently, I am aware of one, perhaps two convenors in the North East.

Whom are my Convenors from the NY and New England states? If you have been a convener, please let me know. If you have an interest in becoming a Convener, please let me know. Which North East festivals have you attended?

My challenge for the North East region is to have at least one convener hosting a Clan Henderson welcome tent in at least one event per state in 2020. New York, of course, may need more due to geography/regions and to a high number of events scheduled.

Will you help me toward this goal? I am looking forward to working with Clan Henderson. Let's do this together NE!

Margaret Adam Henderson: Footsteps in Time

Tracy Richardson, Completing her masters degree at California State University Fullerton.

Margaret Adam was born in 1816 in Lanarkshire, Scotland, to William Thom Adam and Isabella Laird.

In 1837, at the age of 17 Margaret married David Henderson, and they had 7 children.

Owing to the potato famine and the collapse of the peat market in 1849, David and Margaret Henderson, along with the Adam and Easton clans, the latter who were Mormon, decided to immigrate to the U.S.

At the time the Mormons (LDS) were actively recruiting, and the Adam/Henderson clans decided to travel with the Mormons, but not join LDS.

They traveled aboard the sailing ship Berlin, from Liverpool to New Orleans. Cholera was rampant at the time, and 43 people aboard ship died, including Margaret's sister Isabella Grant, and all her family, except for one child, John Grant.

After arriving in New Orleans, the clans took a paddle-wheeler up the Mississippi to St. Louis, Missouri. Here the Adam/Henderson/Easton clans had to earn money to build wagons, buy oxen and supplies.

Margaret's sister, Agnes Easton was still very sick with cholera.

Soon after, Margaret lost one of her children to cholera as well. And then soon after that, her husband, David Henderson died of a heat stroke.

Margaret now had the responsibility of all of her children, John Grant, and all of her sisters' children.

For Margaret, times were desperate.

They were in the process of planning her sister Agnes' burial.

At this time, per Agnes' request, so that their children would be taken care of, Margaret marries her sister's husband, James Easton.

Then some time later Margaret pulls her sister through her illness.

For better or for worse, Margaret had become a plural wife, and based on her own religion, "Presbyterianism," divorce was not a possibility.

Margaret needed to make enough money to support a very large family. So, she ran a coal delivery service. She would pick up the coal in her wagon, take it to be weighed, and then take it to be sold to men.

This was at a time when women did not conduct business.

After making enough money, the Adam/Henderson/Easton clans, along with many others, traveled by wagon train to Salt Lake City, Utah.

Their intention was to stay there, however problems with the LDS arose, and the Adam/Henderson/Easton's decided it was time to leave. (In the middle of the night).

Others asked them to wait, and travel with them. John Easton was elected as Captain of the wagon train.

They made a stop in Cedar City, Utah. Here they stayed for a year, raising enough supplies to take them the final leg of their trip to San Bernardino, California, where the Mormons had recently established an outpost.

In 1855, the Adam/Henderson/Easton clans arrived in San Bernardino, just two years before the Mormons are recalled to Salt Lake City.

Here Margaret and James have a child, John Alexander Henderson. At no time did Margaret take her husband's name, nor did her child.

Soon, after James and Agnes decided to move to Oregon, and Margaret Henderson chose to stay in San Bernardino and raise her children there.

Margaret was a prodigious landowner who bought and sold multiple tracts of land and ran a cattle ranch in San Bernardino in the latter half of the 19th century.

Margaret Henderson is regarded as a founding pioneer of San Bernardino, California. She died in 1900, at the age of 84 years old and is interred at the Pioneer Cemetery in San Bernardino. Margaret is immortalized on a plaque with the other pioneers, in front of the San Bernardino County Courthouse. Margaret's youngest son, John Alexander, became a deputy sheriff, and one of the first Mayors of San Bernardino. Because of Margaret and David Henderson, my family settled in the San Bernardino area and remains there today, but be-

Finger Lakes Celtic Festival 2019

great day for CHS

Steve Henderson, VP-Ops and Convener for CHS, 571-482-7332

Barbara Pamboukes, North East Regional Commissioner, joined me at Manchester, New York, for the 8th Annual Finger Lakes Celtic Festival on 18 May 2019.

Barbara traveled from her home in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and I traveled from my home in Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, and we had a great weather day and visited with many festival attendees.

Clans that were registered included: Armstrong, Bruce, Claus, Lindsay, Klein, Davidson, Hay, Henderson, McKenna, MacClough, McNeil, Simpson, Stewart and Young.

Heavy athletic events were held throughout the day right in front of our tent.

Barbara and I were pleased to meet with Jim Smith, a member of both the Claus and Henderson clans, who has been convening, with his wife, in New York for many years. He has all the convening materials that had been used by Gary Henderson when Gary was more active.

Jim Smith promised us he would send email information to Barbara about his activities in the future so we can know about his active convening in New York.

He was under the impression information about these activities was sent to CHS by Gary.

Two women, Virginia Henderson and Shirl Clark, visited our tent and talked about their interest in discovering more about their family genealogical background.

We indicated that they should join CHS and determine more by contacting our Ancestry and DNA team. Both did not join immediately; however, they took membership forms and their information is in the hands of our VP-Members for further contact.

A young woman, Lynn Henderson, came to our tent from her nearby commercial tent where she was selling yarn and joined CHS as she talked with Barbara and me. She expressed interest in becoming active in CHS and she could become a future convener at the three to four festivals she attends. Barbara will remain in communication with Lynn.

One of Barbara's cousins, Larry Champoux, came to our tent and he joined CHS to show his solidarity with his cousin and also to acquire more information about his Henderson roots in New York. Larry and Barbara had much to discuss and he may become more involved at nearby festivals.

With her family in mind, Barbara paid one year dues for one of her brothers, Donald Henderson Cass, who did not attend the festival. He will be thankful to his sister, Barbara, for this nice birthday gift she opted to get for him.

Peter Henderson, a piper in the Gordon Highlander's Pipe Band, visited the tent to sign in and talk with us. He has been friends with Gary Henderson (both of them being pipers) for many years.

Barbara gently asked Peter to get in touch with Gary to determine how much he may contribute to CHS efforts in the future. Peter also took one of the Corporate Sponsor tri-folds, as he thought that his company, Wentworth Steel, might choose to become a sponsor (especially if some of that money could be used by Peter Henderson who is teaching young people how to play the bagpipes).

Barbara and I had a very enjoyable day discussing convening methods and procedures conveners and their Regional Commissioners should know about so they can be successful in bringing in new members.

Barbara had already started lists of festivals in her region and she took many hand-written notes about what we were doing at the festival. She asked a lot of questions and I did my best to answer them. In the midst of all this, when we were discussing our AGM location in Ligonier, PA, I asked if she had made reservations at the Ramada Inn. She had not, so I showed her a calling card for the Inn.

She telephoned the Ramada and secured reservations for the Pamboukes for the Friday and Saturday evenings, 13 and 14 September 2019.

As the festival was closing down, Barbara helped me get my tent and tables and chairs loaded into my Ford Escape. We shared a great day together and she was a better recruiter than I at this festival.

article in An Canach.

Dan and Judy Henderson were the most distant "mainlanders" from Leesburg, Florida.

Dan is interested in our Chaplain Corps which is headed by Rev. Kyle Henderson. Their meeting was to be rather fortuitous.

What would a game be for Henderson's without a Walkabout?

Thanks to long-time friends of CHS, The Loch Norman Pipe Band once again answered the call.

On Saturday afternoon CHS made their presence on the field known marching through the almost half mile oval of double row clan tents.

With the entire Loch Norman Band, Body-guard contingent comprised of Larry Phillips, Will

Dear Clan Henderson Society,
Thank you for the scholarship money.

I enjoyed the Walkabout at GMHG very much and hope to do it again sometime.

I am using the scholarship money towards a full kilt outfit because I need it for Premiere.

I start Premiere in the spring of 2020. I will be competing at Cary, North Carolina; Loch Norman, North Carolina; Savannah, Georgia and in Ohio (maybe). I will also compete at Grandfather Mountain, in North Carolina; Laurinberg, North Carolina and Stone Mountain, Georgia.

The Savannah Highland Games is the qualifying competition. If I place in the Top 3 at Regionals, then I qualify to represent the Southeast Region at the USIR, the National Competition in the USA.

I must practice very hard and hope to go to the Margret Reed Memorial Workshop in Philadelphia in February and the Ohio Dance Camp at Oberlin College in June.

Your continued support means a lot to me and to my family.

Warmly,
Brynn Brown

Henderson, John Henderson and Dave Henderson, our youth scholarship dancer Brynn Brown with her trophy, followed by 30-35 cousins parted the masses like Moses parted the Red Sea.

Other clan's folk cheered us on as many had haplessly sought the Henderson Tent to rekindle old friendships. We even gleaned a new member from the Walk-about.

On Sunday we were disappointed by being pulled from the Parade of Tartans lineup by Games officials.

The standing rules of the GMHG forbids entry onto the Field proper except for duly registered and paying Clan Sponsors (i.e. Clan Tent).

However, with all these adversities, the weekend was measured a success with about 35 visitors, 4 new members, Brynn's dance trophy, and a spirited Walkabout.

Brisbane, Australia, celebrates National Tartan Day on July 20, 2019

Jeff Henderson, Clan Henderson Society, Inc., Australia

Brisbane's National Tartan Day event was held on July 20 at the King George Square in the centre of the city.

This is a free event organised by the Scottish Australia Heritage Council and hosted by the City of Brisbane - <<https://www.brisbane.qld.gov.au/whats-on-and-events/event/international-tartan-day>>

Jeff Henderson drove up from Melbourne and had several vehicle issues over the 1800 km journey, but made it just in time to set up the tent with the assistance of Tom, Georgia and daughter Shannon Henderson.

Georgia and Shannon baked some superb fudge, shortbread and oatmeal cookies to share with the crowd which were extremely popular and didn't last long.

Our Chief, Alistair, was the 'Chieftain of the Day' and welcomed all, and declared the event officially open. This was followed by the massed pipes and drums marching through the crowd to the stage.

Apart from the baked items, our basket-hilt sword and sept banner were great attractions. The kids were thrilled to have their photo taken holding the sword.

We had quite a few Hendersons visit and several were keen to join the society.

A couple of Hendersons who had recently emigrated from Scotland found our tent by chance as they were not aware of the Tartan Day event. They were thrilled that Scottish heritage is celebrated so well down under.

Also we had a visit from Linda Henderson on holiday from California, who is already a CHS member and spent time chatting to the Chief.

day cake featuring the clan crest, a very impressive cake baked locally in Toowoomba.

Clan Henderson coloring books and crayons were handed out to the kids and we ran out as the day drew to a close.

Handouts and printed versions of An Cannach were provided to many people and several indicated that they intend to join up.

In summary, a great day, beautiful weather and our thanks have been forwarded to the organiser's - the Scottish Australian Heritage Council, Inc.

FSA Scot Dinner at Stone Mtn., GA October 19, 2019

Here, Mr. Hope-Vere Anderson, FSA Scot, in his voluntary role as Honorary Secretary for Society Affairs in the USA, shares the following update:

"As a regular attendee at the Stone Mountain Highland Games in Atlanta for over 40 years, I thought it would be an excellent location to host a dinner for Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland.

"The Stone Mountain Highland Games are some of the largest on the East Coast of America. Quite a few of the people who attend the Games are FSA Scots and a number of guests attend from Scotland.

"Representing the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland, I have a dedicated stall and tent at the Games, located across from the Clan Anderson tent. There, potential new Fellows can receive information about the Society and its many accomplishments, and, should they wish, can find out how to apply to join the Society.

"The annual Fellows' dinner organised on the Saturday evening of the weekend Games at the official hotel for the Games, the Hilton Atlanta NE, has proved quite popular with an excellent line-up of speakers. The evening dinner is open both to Fellows, guests and to those who are interested in joining the Society.

"This year the dinner and program will be on Saturday, 19 October at the Hunnicutt C/D Room in the Hilton Atlanta NE hotel. Registration from 6.30pm and dinner at 7pm.

"All are welcome and invited. RSVPs can be e-mailed to Martha Hartzog FSA Scot (at m.hartzog@mail.utexas.edu), who assists with the annual dinner arrangements.

"We look forward to seeing you at Stone Mountain!

"With best wishes, Hope Vere Anderson, FSA Scot."

Book Review -

THE HENDERSONS: ONE FAMILY'S LEGACY

Pamela Douglas Brust

C. Fred Sanford, Clan Henderson Chaplain and Counsellor to the Chief

Henderson Hall, a stately mansion near Parkersburg, West Virginia, has been featured in An Canach a number of times recently. Now, a book has been published which examines not just the house itself but generations of one Henderson family.

In October 2016 a number of us in the Clan, coordinated by Steve and Doug Henderson, were invited to tour the house. We were treated warmly by the volunteer staff and encouraged to return often.

Pamela Douglas Brust, an Ohio writer and historian, dedicated herself to the history of the family which founded and built the mansion and museum, which is now on the historic registry as Henderson Hall.

Using documents, artifacts, personality portraits, and historic records dating back to family origins in Scotland she has traced the lives and times of this line of Hendersons emigrating to the colonies in the 1750s.

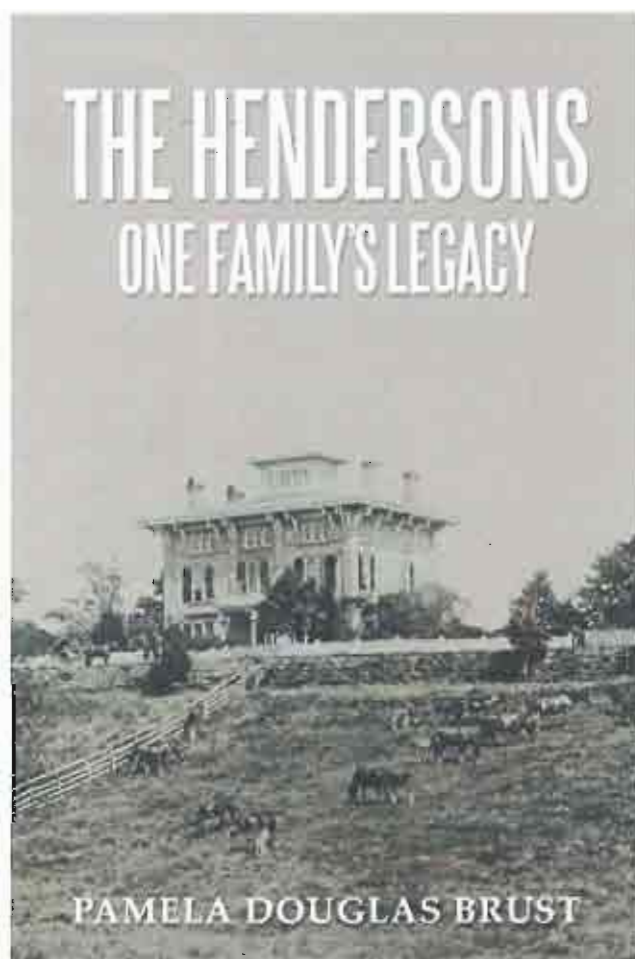

Being merchants, the sons operated on the Potomac River shores of Virginia when three of the next generation chose to expand their commercial interests to the Ohio River valley of Western Virginia, across the river from the pioneer village of Marietta, Ohio.

The Henderson men achieved strong reputations along the river, in farming, trading, raising horses, and in politics.

Not all went well, as debts mounted, and child mortality afflicted the families. Finally, they settled on a property near Williamstown where the homestead was built.

The Henderson women are remembered as stalwart supporters of the families and several portraits are included.

The author recounts a special occasion when a visitor by the name of Aaron Burr arrived and attempted to engage the Henderson brothers in a scheme to separate the newly formed Louisiana Purchase from the colonial states.

They refused and became witnesses in the trial against Burr, whose reputation as the shooter of Alexander Hamilton in a duel, had already been tarnished.

Brust also includes chapters on the Hendersons who stayed in Virginia.

Two prominent men, one Archibald Henderson, became Commandant of the Marine Corps in the early 1800s, and his brother, Thomas,

 became a medical doctor associated with the Medical College in Washington and the West Point Military Academy. He was notable in encouraging the founding of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

While this book is full of facts and stories based on hours of research, it is not a smoothly written chronological narrative, where one identifies each generation easily. The reader constantly needs to refer back to earlier pages to straighten out husbands and spouses and children and grandchildren. The author's writing style is often difficult to manage with so many pages of single-sentence paragraphs.

Otherwise, it becomes a tribute to the name of Henderson in American history. Here is an open invitation to feel a living part of this generational legacy.

How could we all dream that our own family would have such a rich history in print as this is?

As we've all been encouraged to do so, be sure to schedule a visit to this site along Interstate 77 near the Ohio River bridge into Ohio or West Virginia.

The book is available on Amazon.com. Just type in The Hendersons: One Family's Legacy
 in the book search.

Please forgive your editor. Timing issues with An Canach meant that, most likely, this publication would not reach everyone by the date of the funeral for Russ Henderson.

The information is here in case it does.
 There will be photographs and more information in the next An Canach.

FUNERAL SERVICE

The Funeral Service for Russ Henderson will be held at Old Post Chapel at 11 am, Friday August 9, 2019 followed by inurnment at Arlington National Cemetery.

We invite all attendees to lunch at Patton Hall
 (formerly Fort Myers Officers Club)
 after the inurnment.
